Dear Eric,

I've been remiss in not writing sooner to thank you for the nice photos of the Clayton 04 "dinky" car. They'll be a treasured possession.

Now, I'm in a state of puzzlement over some chronology involving the Wabash route through Forest Park and Delmar Station. I've just picked up a great book "St. Louis and its Streetcars", published in 1996 and loaded with fine photos going back to the '20's and '30's. I'm trying to square some childhood recollections with some dates in this book. I know for certain that my family moved to St. Louis from Chicago in 1934. I have two very distinct memories that have to be from no earlier than 1934. One is being shown a giant excavation project north from Delmar in the vicinity of Delmar Station. I'd been identifying that with the Wabash grade separation project, but the book gives the date 1928 for Delmar Station and the tracks underpassing Delmar Blvd. So I have to assume that the excavation project I witnessed around 1934 or '35 must have been the River Des Peres project (as you reminded me when we talked). That I can accept.

But now, here's something that really has me puzzled. The second distinct recollection is riding the #11 University car line from V. City to downtown, and that near De Baliviere, the street car crossed the Wabash tracks on a wooden trestle, the Wabash tracks then being at grade. That also had to be no earlier than 1934. But... here's the problem. The book has a photo, said to be taken in 1930, showing the Wabash grade separation under construction "near Union Blvd." That date would seem to me to be too early. Unless, of course, the part of the project near Union was done as early as 1930, and further west at De Baliviere not completed until approximately five years later. Another memory that establishes the grade separation not having been completed near De Baliviere until c. 1935 is that Rock Island passenger trains were still using the route through Clayton as late as 1934, and the separation at De Baliviere is what severed that Rock Island connection to the Wabash.

I wonder if you might have any ideas as to what sources might be consulted to clear up this "mystery". It might be that I've simply discovered a misdating of a photo.

Let me know whether you have a copy of "St. Louis and its Streetcars". If not, I'd really like to send you a copy.

Thanks again for the 04 photos.

Sincerely,

Alvin Estlin

Dear Mr. Newman:

I have in my possession No. 419 of a series of Colonial notes mentioned in "The Early Paper Money of America" in which it pictures No. 701 on page 144. I have been ~~the~~ writing everyone in the United States trying to find out its value. Can you help me. I am very curious.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Evans

No one seems to want to answer you because they think you probably have a fake.

Send me a photocopy and then we will know.

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Newman:

I received you name through a roundabout ~~name~~ way through Dick Long and Ed. Shlieker. Both said that you could offer good advice on the authenticity of this type of note.

I have two of the notes and a possible source where two or three more might be obtained.

Any help you can give will be greatly appreciated. A stamped envelope is enclosed for your convenience and reply.

All of the Iturbide notes examined by me were genuine except two obvious counterfeits. The genuine pieces are very common except the 10 pesos. They have been liberated from the Mexican archives in my opinion. All are cancelled by slash or endorsement. Naturally I cannot pass on specific notes without seeing them. If you need further data I will try to help.

I am enclosing a 1 peso note for your observation and comments. I certainly appreciate your kind offer. If you think this note is genuine, I would appreciate a rough estimate of its value, and that of the 2 peso and 10 peso also if you have any such information. Thanks again

Dear Mr. Evans

Your 1 peso Iturbide note is genuine and cancelled by endorsement in Oaxaca in 1825.

Formerly, fantastic prices were asked for these notes, particularly the 10 peso. Quantities of all denominations of these notes have been removed from the Mexican Archives and the supply seems unlimited. There is no way to value items under these circumstances.

Your note is returned herewith.

Sincerely yours,

EPN/atb

To the Natchez Mafia,

It was a delight for Evelyn and I to celebrate with you at the festivities in Lincoln County.

In accordance with my promise I am enclosing photocopies of some of the Natchez notes in my collection. I hope they are of interest to you and presume that if you ask you may be able to locate some in Natchez.

Until we meet again,

Cordially,

Dear Sir:

You will recall that my wife and I tried to visit you when we were in England and finally we reached you by phone just before you left on holiday. We went to your home twice trying to find you and looked for your Airdale in the park so we at least are acquainted with your walking habits. We are sorry we did not get to meet you.

My wife wishes the following items from your Catalogue No. 625:

No. 113 - Bird Plates - £5 18s. 6d.

No. 140 - Part (c) - Flower Plates - £3 ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~
~~XXXXXXXXXX~~

No. 143 - Fruit Plates - £10. (Remove plates from book).

We would like to come to see you at some future date but, unfortunately, we did not win enough at Bingo, at Blackpool, to pay for another trip.

We will send you the money for the above as soon as you indicate that the items are sent.

Sincerely yours,
